THE POINT.

BUILDING THE NEXT GENERATION OF STUDENT LEADERS IS NOT SUPPOSED TO BE DIFFICULT.

STUDENTS WANT TO LEAD, BUT THEY DON'T SEE THEMSELVES WORTHY OF IT.

Most students don't struggle because they are incapable; they struggle because they believe:

- "I AM NOT ENOUGH"
- "I AM BEHIND AND DON'T MATTER"
- "I AM NOT READY TO LEAD YET"
- "I AM AFRAID OF FAILING"

What they don't know is!

Their self worth was never supposed to be placed in the results they can produce, having the perfect academic plan, the approval of their peers, and how much they can do for others.

When students face mental-health barriers like low self-worth, it directly affects their ability to communicate and step into leadership. They get caught in the trap of self-doubt, and trying to be perfect.

..... constantly trying to prove they're "enough," instead of realizing they already are.

THE JOURNEY.

“ENOUGH IS ENOUGH: HOMECOMING”

is a immersive journey of overcoming self doubt and perfectionism so students can finally come home to the part of them that always knew they were enough. We will go through a 4 STAGE FRAMEWORK to help students BREAKTHROUGH the feelings of unworthiness.

INTRODUCTION

(What is self-worth and leadership?)

AWARENESS

(Understanding relationship with self-worth)

INTEGRITY

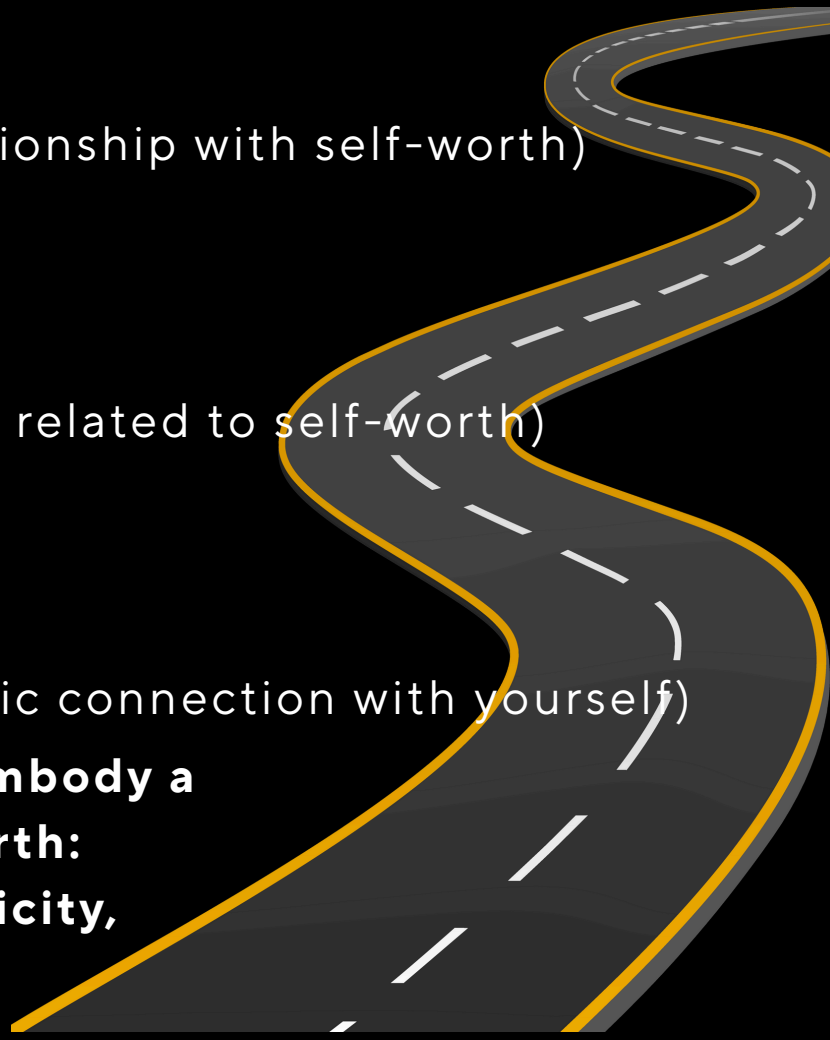

(Your word is directly related to self-worth)

INTIMACY

(Creating an authentic connection with yourself)

... so students can embody a new level of self-worth: confidence, authenticity, freedom, and love.
